Hi Crafty Embroiderers

Today we are going to make the Onsie Waist-coat. Really very easy to make and oh so suave for baby. This little waist coat also has two loops to attach a pacifer instead of a pocket watch.

What you will need

- Tear away stabilizer
- Fabric for the waist coat
- Embroidery thread
- Ribbon
- Temporary spray adhesive
- Needle and thread for hand stitching

- Embroidery Step 1
- Hoop up two layers of tear away stabilizer.
- Stitch out the running stitch die lines onto the stabilizer.

- Cut and stick down a piece of fabric.

- Embroidery Step 2
- Stitch out the tack down stitch.
- Trim away all excess fabric.

- Embroidery Step 3
- Stitch out the satin stitch edging.

- Embroidery Step 4
- Stitch out the die line marker.
- Cut a 3" length of ribbon.
- Fold the ribbon in half.
- Stick the ribbon down so that the two open ends cross over the die line.
- Embroidery Step 5
- Stitch out the tack down stitch for the ribbon.
- Trim away any excess ribbon.

- Embroidery Step 6
- Stitch out the satin stitch to finish off with.
- Remove the stitch outs from the hoop and remove all stabilizer.

- Place the two waist coat pieces on the onesie.
- Using some matching thread hand stitch the waist coat pieces onto the onesie.

*Thank you for stitching along with this fun project.
I hope your baby loves it, God Bless.*
